2024

Warm greetings to our guests!

2023 was our fifth season running Kirk Kove and it proved to be a fantastic year. We were happy to finally have all our guests return, along with extended families booking additional cottages to fill us up through the season. Thanks to all of you for your loyalty and contributing to Kirk Kove's ongoing livelihood. We look forward to welcoming you back soon.

Fishing

In June 2023 the Ministry of Natural Resources and Fisheries stayed at Kirk Kove for 3 days while they netted different areas of Big Gull Lake to study the various species and health of the fish, along with testing the water quality. The results were very positive: the water is clean, all species of fish were found healthy, there are all sizes of fish in the lake which demonstrates that the slot size is working, and the variety of fish netted was quite extensive (white fish!). Cottages Update

Kirk Kove now has 19 cottages for rent after purchasing an additional cottage in July 2023. It is the large 2-story cottage on the right as you come down the driveway. We are making improvements to this cottage over the winter and "The Russell" should be ready for guests by this May or June. Our hope is to rent this cottage monthly, or at a minimum bi-weekly. It has four bedrooms which would work well for two families or extended families, a large living room with a separate kitchen and dining area, and a screened in porch. It also includes a television, Wi-Fi, and an air conditioner on the second level. Unfortunately, we won't have any pictures available until the Spring. If you, or any friends or family may be interested, please contact us to learn more.

One highlight of the summer was raising monarch butterflies with the first release of "Willie Jr." on August 25, 2023.
